

— ASSET ADVISORS, LLC —

DFW REAL ESTATE INTELLIGENCE BRIEF

The Market Everyone Is Watching.

Dallas-Fort Worth is the nation's #1 market to watch — and a market in active price correction. This is the structural read on residential, commercial and investment conditions shaping the 2026 opportunity window.

EDITION

June 2026

COVERAGE

Residential · Commercial · Investment

MARKET

Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex

PREPARED BY C&C ASSET ADVISORS FOR CLIENTS &
PROSPECTIVE BUYERS

C&C Asset Advisors, LLC
469.479.9656 · Dalton@ccassetadvisors.com
www.ccassetadvisors.com

INSIDE THIS BRIEF

Contents

01	Residential Market: Prices & Inventory Where prices actually stand, by county and submarket	p. 04
02	First-Time Buyers: The Opportunity Window Why right now is the best entry point in years	p. 06
03	Down Payment Assistance — The Full Stack TSAHC, TDHCA & city programs that most buyers miss	p. 07
04	Mortgage & Lending Landscape Current rates, forecasts and affordability math	p. 09
05	Property Taxes — What Buyers Must Know Exemptions, deadlines and pending legislation	p. 10
06	Commercial Real Estate Overview Industrial, office, retail & multifamily	p. 11
07	New Construction Market Builder incentives and the development pipeline	p. 13
08	Luxury Market The segment outperforming the broader market	p. 14
09	Economic & Population Fundamentals The structural case for DFW real estate	p. 15
10	Single-Family Rental & Investment Metrics For clients weighing investment alongside a home	p. 16
11	At a Glance — The Numbers That Matter Quick reference for every figure that counts	p. 17
12	What to Watch: Forward Indicators The signals shaping the next 6–18 months	p. 18

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

A tension worth understanding.

Dallas–Fort Worth is simultaneously the #1 rated real estate market to watch in the country and a market in active price correction — and that contradiction is precisely the opportunity.

For the second consecutive year, PwC's Emerging Trends in Real Estate named DFW the top market for investment and development prospects. Yet median home prices in several submarkets have fallen 6–14% year-over-year.

That tension — long-term structural strength against near-term affordability pressure — defines the opportunity set for first-time buyers right now, and is the core narrative C&C should own.

“Buyers who understand what's happening in this market are buyers who close.”

THE HEADLINE READ

#1

U.S. market to watch
— 2nd year running

6–14%

YoY price decline in key suburban counties

487 net new residents

arriving every day

Sources: PwC Emerging Trends; NTREIS / Republic Title; U.S. Census, 2024–2026

WHAT THIS BRIEF ESTABLISHES

- ◆ Prices have softened while inventory hit multi-year highs — the market has flipped buyer-favorable.
- ◆ Assistance is underused. TSAHC, TDHCA and city programs can bring buyers in with near-zero cash.
- ◆ Fundamentals are intact. #1 in HQ relocations for 7 straight years; top-tier job and population growth.

The window

Price corrections, decade-high inventory, returning seller concessions and aggressive builder buydowns have converged in favor of first-time buyers in 2026 — a combination that has not existed in this market for years, and one unlikely to persist once rate cuts release pent-up demand.

01 RESIDENTIAL Prices & Inventory

DFW residential pricing varies significantly by source and geography.

Below is the clearest read across the major data providers — and where it diverges.

WHERE PRICES ACTUALLY STAND · THE CLEAREST READ

$399.5_k

DFW metro median, single-family
(Apr 2026) ▼ 0.1% YoY

$311.9_k

Zillow — Dallas city proper ▼ 3.4% YoY

$465_k

Redfin — Dallas city, 3-mo rolling ▲ 5.6% (higher-end mix)

$334_k

TRERC statewide 2026 forecast ▲ ~1.3%

MEDIAN PRICE BY COUNTY · EARLY 2026

COUNTY	MEDIAN PRICE	YOY
Parker	$447,100	-5.9%
Rockwall	$430,831	-1.0%
Denton	$423,000	-10.0%
Collin	$419,995	-14.3%
Ellis	$417,432	-1.8%
Dallas	$350,000	-4.1%
Tarrant	$340,000	-2.9%
Johnson	$331,990	-7.5%
Kaufman	$299,900	-7.0%
Hunt	$290,000	0%

Source: NTREIS / Republic Title, February 2026

KEY SUBMARKET PRICES · MAY 2026

- ◆ Frisco — ~$790,000
- ◆ Prosper — ~$670,000
- ◆ Flower Mound — ~$620,000
- ◆ Allen — ~$517,000
- ◆ McKinney — ~$488,000

THE TARRANT COUNTY CASE

Fort Worth's average value (~$295,822) runs roughly 38% below Collin County's ~$480,349.

For buyers priced out of Collin County, Tarrant is the most compelling alternative with strong employment access.

Inventory & Market Dynamics

The DFW market has flipped from a seller's market to broadly balanced — or buyer-favoring — conditions. Inventory has climbed to multi-year highs while homes sit longer and sellers concede on price.

25–32_{k+}

active listings — multi-year highs

5.8_{mo}

months of supply, metro-wide;
several submarkets above 6.0

~40%

of active listings carry a price reduction

8,370

closed sales, Apr 2026 ▲ 4.5% YoY

DAYS ON MARKET · CORE SUBURBS

Plano, Frisco, McKinney, Allen · days to contract

SOLD-TO-LIST RATIO

Sellers accepting roughly 3–8% below ask, by submarket

THE TAKEAWAY FOR BUYERS

- ◆ Buyers now have 12–20 viable options in most search criteria, versus 4–6 in 2024.
- ◆ Concessions are back — rate buydowns, closing-cost credits and repair credits are standard practice again.
- ◆ Leverage has shifted: time on market and price cuts give buyers room to negotiate.

“The DFW housing market is transitioning from a frenzied seller's market to a more balanced — but slower — environment.”

SRIRAM VILLUPURAM · UTA ECONOMIST

Prices likely remain flat or decline slightly through mid-2026.

02 FIRST-TIME BUYERS The Opportunity Window

Several structural forces have converged in favor of first-time buyers in 2026 — a combination unlikely to persist once rate cuts release pent-up demand.

WHY RIGHT NOW

- ◆ Price corrections — values down 5-14% in key suburban counties from 2024 peaks.
- ◆ Inventory at decade highs — 12-20 viable options in most searches, vs. 4-6 in 2024.
- ◆ Seller concessions returning — buydowns, closing-cost and repair credits are standard again.
- ◆ New-construction incentives — $20K-$40K in credits, with buydowns as low as 2.99%.
- ◆ Affordability improving fast — DFW ranks #2 in the South for fastest-improving housing affordability.

RENT VS. BUY

$1,693

national median rent / mo

$2,040

median mortgage payment / mo

Renting still wins on pure monthly cost short-term — but the equity-building and tax case favors buying for anyone with a 3+ year horizon.

MINIMUM INCOME TO QUALIFY

At ~6% mortgage rates, before down-payment assistance.

PURCHASE	DOWN	INCOME
$300,000	1% down	$60,000
$375,000	3% down	$75,000
$450,000	3.5% down	$90,000

DFW's median household income is adequate for a $300K-$375K purchase without assistance. Down-payment assistance programs — covered next — can move that effective qualification range up significantly.

“The structural case for buying is strong for anyone planning to stay put.”

03 THE FULL STACK Down Payment Assistance

This is what most first-time buyers don't know — and what C&C should lead with as an educational differentiator.

TSAHC · TEXAS STATE AFFORDABLE HOUSING CORPORATION

Homes for Texas Heroes

For teachers, firefighters, EMS, police, corrections officers, veterans and nursing faculty. 30-year fixed mortgage plus down-payment assistance.

Home Sweet Texas Home Loan

For all eligible Texas buyers regardless of profession. Same 30-year fixed structure plus assistance.

BOTH PROGRAMS OFFER

- ◆ DPA as a grant (never repaid) or a forgivable second lien (forgiven at 3 years).
- ◆ 3-5% of loan amount — on a $300,000 purchase that's $9,000-$15,000.
- ◆ Minimum credit score 620.
- ◆ Income limits ≈ $70K-$120K for 1-2 person households, by county.
- ◆ Purchase-price limits typically up to $350K-$500K.

MORTGAGE CREDIT CERTIFICATE (MCC)

A 15% annual tax credit on mortgage interest — a dollar-for-dollar reduction in federal tax liability. Combinable with TSAHC DPA, and free for Texas Heroes.

TSAHC INTEREST RATES · JUNE 2026

LOAN TYPE	DPA	RATE
FHA / USDA / VA (non-bond)	0%	6.125%
FHA / USDA / VA (non-bond)	2-4%	6.625%
Conventional (>80% AMFI)	0%	6.500%
Conventional (≤80% AMFI)	0%	6.250%

Source: TSAHC.org, June 2026

IMPORTANT

Buyers do not apply directly to TSAHC — assistance is accessed through a TSAHC-approved lender. A HUD-approved homebuyer education course is required before closing.

Stacking, Statewide & City Programs

The real leverage is in combining programs. Layered correctly, total cash to close can approach zero.

STACKING EXAMPLE · TSAHC + VA

- ◆ VA requires $0 down.
- ◆ TSAHC assistance goes toward closing costs.
- ◆ Total cash needed approaches zero.

STACKING EXAMPLE · TSAHC + FHA

- ◆ FHA requires 3.5% down.
- ◆ TSAHC can cover the full 3.5%.
- ◆ Buyer enters with minimal cash out of pocket.

TDHCA · TEXAS DEPT. OF HOUSING & COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

My First Texas Home

First-time buyers only (exceptions for veterans and targeted areas). 30-year low-interest mortgages plus DPA.

My Choice Texas Home

No first-time-buyer requirement. Low-interest mortgages plus DPA for all eligible Texans.

Education requirement met via Finally Home! (TDHCA's preferred HUD-certified provider) or any HUD-certified course.

CITY-LEVEL PROGRAMS · DFW

- ◆ Dallas — Homebuyer Assistance Program via the city housing department.
- ◆ Fort Worth — HOME Investment Partnerships program.
- ◆ Frisco, Garland & others — periodic targeted programs; income limits generally 60–80% AMI.

THE C&C EDGE

Buyers can often stack city programs on top of TSAHC, maximizing total assistance. Plan 30–60 days for processing. Knowing how to layer these is the single clearest way to differentiate.

04 LENDING LANDSCAPE Mortgage & Rates

Rates peaked near 8% in late 2023 and have fallen roughly 150 basis points since. Forecasters see further easing into year-end 2026.

CURRENT TEXAS RATES · JUNE 7, 2026

PRODUCT	RATE	APR
30-Yr Fixed · Conventional	6.44%	6.45%
30-Yr Fixed · FHA	5.38%	6.10%
30-Yr Fixed · VA	5.87%	6.12%
15-Yr Fixed	5.76%	5.80%
5-Yr ARM	6.48%	6.49%

Source: NerdWallet / Texas averages, June 7, 2026. Bankrate Texas average: 6.56% (30-yr), 5.92% (15-yr).

5.38% The FHA rate sits more than a full point below conventional — a significant advantage for qualified first-time buyers. Ask us how to access it.

BUILDER RATE BUYDOWNS

New-construction builders are offering temporary buydowns as low as 2.99%–3.99% on select homes, using margin to subsidize rates — a critical data point when comparing new construction against resale.

30-YEAR RATE FORECASTS · YEAR-END 2026

Texas A&M TRERC	5.0–5.6%
Fannie Mae	5.9%
NAR	6.0%
MBA	6.1–6.4%

TRERC's more optimistic call reflects expected Fed cuts — the Fed Funds target is projected at 3.0%–3.5% by year-end.

WHY IT MATTERS FOR BUYERS

Every 50 bps drop in rates adds roughly 5–6% to buyer purchasing power. Buyers who transact during the current soft window lock in price; those who wait for lower rates may face renewed competition.

KEY AFFORDABILITY METRICS

~3.1%

YoY wage growth — lagging housing-cost increases

$300–375_k

purchase range supported by median income, no DPA

2.1–2.8%

property-tax rate of assessed value, by district

$140_k

homestead school exemption (up from $100K in 2025)

05 COST OF OWNERSHIP Property Taxes

Texas has no state income tax but carries one of the higher effective property-tax burdens nationally. Exemptions change the math substantially — and buyers must understand them.

THE MATH ON A $400,000 HOME

$8.4–10.4_k

annual tax before exemptions

2.1–2.6%

average effective rate, by county & district

- ◆ Homestead exemption removes $140,000 from school-taxable value — cutting school tax by ~$2,100–$3,500/yr.
- ◆ Over-65 / disabled exemption rose to $60,000 in 2026; combined with homestead = $200,000 total reduction.
- ◆ Appraisal cap limits annual taxable-value increases to 10%, protecting buyers from sudden tax spikes.

DEADLINES

Apr 30

apply for current-year exemptions (homestead retroactive up to 2 yrs)

May 15

annual property-tax appeal deadline

PENDING LEGISLATION · 2026 SESSION

Outcomes are TBD, but directionally positive for buyers.

- ◆ Gov. Abbott — proposed eliminating school property taxes for homeowners via voter referendum.
- ◆ Capping homestead appraisals at 3% (down from 10%).
- ◆ Limiting appraisals to once every 5 years.
- ◆ Lt. Gov. Patrick — proposed lowering the school-tax freeze age from 65 to 55.

“Elimination of school property taxes would be one of the largest cost-of-ownership reductions in Texas history.”

06 COMMERCIAL OVERVIEW Industrial & Office

◆ FOR YOUR FUTURE REFERENCE

Industrial is the metro's strongest sector and a structural demand story; office remains bifurcated, defined by a flight to quality. Not buying commercial? It still matters — the jobs, capital and data centers flowing into these assets are exactly what keep DFW home values climbing.

INDUSTRIAL · THE STRONGEST SECTOR · Q1 2026

$10.14/SF

asking rent ▲ 8.3% YoY — record high

9.2%

vacancy, improving from 9.5% a year ago

30.9MSF

under construction · 29.5% preleased

605MW

data-center capacity under construction

For the first time since 2021, annual demand exceeded new deliveries in 2025, and DFW leads the U.S. in industrial development pipeline. Data centers are a transformative new demand vector — Dallas is on track to more than double capacity by 2026, with AI-driven demand (OpenAI / Oracle / SoftBank in Texas) that is structural, not cyclical. The "Westplex" is absorbing demand as land east of Dallas tightens.

OFFICE · FLIGHT TO QUALITY · Q1 2026

25.4%

overall vacancy — down 20 bps YoY

$37.47/SF

Class A rent — record high

$1.8B

12-mo volume · $320/SF · 8.4% cap

Leasing activity jumped 43.6% QoQ to 4.3 MSF — a positive lead indicator — and for the first time in 30 years, no new deliveries occurred in a quarter. Net absorption was negative 210,199 SF, with Class B dragging while Class A stayed positive.

CONVERSION OPPORTUNITY

Office-to-residential conversion is a live opportunity: 4.8 MSF of Tier I properties have been identified as highly suitable for repurposing.

Class A $37.47/SF · Class B $25.78/SF · market avg $33.31/SF (▲ 6.0%). Pipeline 3.1 MSF, concentrated in Uptown/Turtle Creek and Far North Dallas.

Retail & Multifamily

Retail is holding up better than national narratives suggest. Multifamily is the key investor story — a market working through a significant supply overhang.

RETAIL · RESILIENT · Q1 2026

5.4%

vacancy — well below the 9–10% 2009–13 peak

$21.23/SF

asking rent ▲ 7.3% YoY

$28.30/SF

premium — East Dallas Outlying

–25k SF

Q1 net absorption — softening, not distressed

CBRE projects mixed-use will become increasingly prevalent across new DFW developments and redevelopments.

MULTIFAMILY · WORKING THROUGH SUPPLY · Q1 2026

12.2%

vacancy — elevated

–2.1%

rent growth — negative several quarters

$1,500

asking rent per unit / mo

5.8%

cap rate · ~$183K per unit

Deliveries (7,300 units) outpaced absorption (5,100) in Q1, but units under construction have fallen to 30,200 — down from a 65,000-unit peak in 2023. The supply correction is underway.

FOR INVESTORS

- ◆ Construction starts have fallen sharply — supply correction underway.
- ◆ Concessions widespread, especially Class C and supply-heavy suburban corridors.
- ◆ Class B assets are best positioned for recovery.
- ◆ Vacancy projected to peak in 2026; rent recovery expected late 2026 into 2027.

Submarket to watch: Fort Worth over Dallas — Haltom City / Meacham absorbing supply efficiently; South Fort Worth and Arlington/Mansfield seeing meaningful pullback.

07 NEW CONSTRUCTION Builders Are Motivated

New construction is critical to the first-time-buyer market because builders are motivated to move standing inventory — and they have flexibility they weren't showing 18 months ago.

$20–40_k

credits, closing-cost assistance & appliance packages on standing inventory

2.99–3.99%

builder rate buydowns on select homes (FHA / VA)

2 wks

peak negotiation window — last two weeks of any builder's fiscal quarter

MAJOR DEVELOPMENT PIPELINE · 2026–2028

PROJECT	LOCATION	SCALE
Firefly Park	Frisco · DNT corridor	217 ac · $4B
Sloan Corners	Allen / Fairview	500 ac · $3B+
River Central	Fort Worth	140 ac · $2B
University Hills	Fort Worth area	270 ac · $1B
The Almanac	Plano	142 ac · $750M
Rivulet	Fort Worth area	90 ac

Mixed-use unless noted · Source: Dallas Chamber EDG 2026 Pipeline Report

INSIDER TIMING

The last two weeks of a builder's fiscal quarter are the deepest discount window of the year.

Builders need to hit quarter-end numbers — that's when the richest incentive packages and buydowns appear. Time your offer accordingly.

ONE MORE EDGE

Collin County: negotiate against recent closed comps, not active listings — the market has softened enough that builders have room they weren't showing 18 months ago.

INFRASTRUCTURE RESHAPING VALUES

The $3.5B Kay Bailey Hutchison Convention Center expansion and DFW Airport Terminal F are two of the largest near-term investments reshaping surrounding real-estate values.

08 LUXURY MARKET

Outperforming The Field

◆ FOR YOUR FUTURE REFERENCE

The DFW luxury segment is insulated by cash buyers and corporate relocation demand — and is appreciating while the mass market corrects.

Even if it's above your price point, luxury shows where high earners put their money — and which neighborhoods hold value in a correction.

~39%

of all Texas $1M+ home sales occurred in DFW

4,992

luxury homes transacted

$8.5^B

total luxury volume

2–4%+

price appreciation in premium neighborhoods

PREMIUM NEIGHBORHOODS · CURRENT

NEIGHBORHOOD	MEDIAN	$/SF	DOM	YOY
Highland Park	$3.2M	$925	18d	+22%
Preston Hollow	$2.8M	$625	28d	+18%
University Park	$2.1M	$685	21d	+15%
Turtle Creek	$1.85M	$780	32d	+12%

Median price · price per square foot · days on market · year-over-year appreciation

WHAT'S DRIVING IT

Demand is driven by continued high-income corporate relocations from coastal markets.

Many luxury buyers in 2026 are using cash or large down payments to avoid rate exposure entirely — which is why this segment is decoupled from the rate-sensitive mass market.

09 THE STRUCTURAL CASE Economy & Population

The long-term case for DFW real estate rests on structural economic drivers that distinguish it from most U.S. markets.

8.3–8.7_M

DFW total population (2024–25 estimates)

487

net new residents per day · 177,922 in 2024

#1

in the nation for HQ relocations — 7th straight year

~46.8_k

non-farm jobs added YoY — top-2 U.S. metro

CORPORATE RELOCATIONS & JOB GROWTH

- ◆ 11 interstate / international HQ moves in 2025 — more than Miami (8), Austin, Charlotte and New York (7 each).
- ◆ 111 corporate HQ relocations from 2018–2025 — most of any U.S. metro.
- ◆ Q1 2026 Dallas job growth poised to exceed DC, Chicago and Boston combined.
- ◆ Employment +1.0% through Sept 2025, outpacing the 0.8% U.S. rate; 34,900 net jobs led by education & health (16,800).

Why they come: no state income tax, pro-business climate, labor availability, central geography, lower operating costs.

POPULATION GROWTH

Net in-migration drives ~60% of growth; international migration is accelerating as domestic migration eases. DFW led all U.S. metros in 2023 and remains a top-3 growth market in 2024.

THE "WESTOPLEX" TREND

As land east of Dallas tightens, residential communities, industrial development and corporate campuses are migrating toward Fort Worth and Tarrant / Parker / Johnson counties — creating appreciation opportunity in historically undervalued western submarkets.

10 RENTAL & INVESTMENT

Single-Family Rental

◆ FOR YOUR FUTURE REFERENCE

For clients weighing an investment alongside a primary home purchase — the rental and yield picture across DFW. New to buying? File this away — many first homes become rentals later, and knowing the numbers now keeps that door open.

$1,975

avg Dallas single-family rent / mo
(Jan 2026)

$1,410

DFW median apartment asking rent
▼ 1.9% YoY

$2,200

TRERC statewide SFR forecast by year-end

5.8%

multifamily cap rate — private buyers dominant

WHERE INVESTORS ARE FOCUSED

- ◆ Corridors: Dallas County, Oak Cliff and South Dallas.
- ◆ Entry prices: $280,000–$350,000.
- ◆ Rents: $1,800–$2,400 / month.

Institutional investors are selectively re-entering, but private buyers dominate at current cap rates.

THE RENT-VS-BUY MATH

Renting is cheaper on a monthly basis in the short term.

Buying wins at 3+ years once equity appreciation and tax benefits are factored in.

“Time horizon is the whole decision — the longer the hold, the stronger the case for ownership.”

11

QUICK REFERENCE · THE NUMBERS THAT MATTER

At a Glance

The figures worth keeping handy as you weigh your move — the data behind every conversation about buying in DFW right now.

METRIC	FIGURE	METRIC	FIGURE
DFW population Census / Chamber	8.3-8.7M	TSAHC max DPA TSAHC.org	3-5%
New residents / day U.S. Census 2024	487	TSAHC income limit, Dallas TSAHC	~$111,250
HQ relocations, 2025 CBRE	11 · #1	Homestead exemption TX Leg. 2025	$140,000
DFW market ranking PwC	#1	30-yr fixed, TX NerdWallet / Bankrate	6.44-6.56%
Median price, metro Homes.com	$399,500	FHA rate, TX NerdWallet	5.38%
Median price, Tarrant NTREIS	$340,000	Builder incentives Market data	$20-40K
Days on market, suburbs Various	50-80d	Builder buydown rates Various	2.99-3.99%
Active inventory JVM Lending	+22% YoY	DFW job creation CBRE / TransWestern	~46.8K
Listings w/ price cuts AkiIRE	~40%	Rent-vs-buy crossover Analysis	3+ yrs

12 FORWARD INDICATORS What To Watch

The signals that will shape DFW market conditions over the next 6-18 months.

01 Fed rate cuts

TRERC projects 30-year rates at 5.0-5.6% by December. Every 50 bps drop adds ~5-6% to buyer purchasing power — releasing pent-up demand and tightening inventory rapidly.

02 Builder inventory clearance

As builders work through standing inventory, new starts fall — gradually tightening supply in the $300K-$500K range by mid-2027.

03 Multifamily rent recovery

Projected for late 2026 into 2027 as deliveries slow — signaling improving landlord conditions for single-family-rental investors.

04 Texas property-tax legislation

If Abbott's proposal passes, eliminating school property taxes would be one of the largest cost-of-ownership reductions in Texas history.

05 Data-center & AI buildout

$3.5B convention-center expansion, Airport Terminal F and 605 MW of data-center capacity under construction are structural demand anchors.

06 "Westoplex" development

Fort Worth's River Central ($2B), University Hills ($1B) and TRE-corridor investment represent a once-per-decade land-use shift westward.

07 Lock-in effect unwinding

REFERRAL OPPORTUNITY

As rates fall toward 5.5-6%, more existing owners — currently locked in at 2-3% rates — will sell, adding inventory and activating the move-up buyer segment: a direct referral opportunity for C&C.

BACK MATTER

Sources & Methodology

This brief synthesizes public market data current to June 2026. Figures vary by provider and methodology; where sources diverge, both readings are presented. Below are the primary sources by category.

RESIDENTIAL, PRICING & INVENTORY

- NTRIS / Republic Title — county medians, Feb 2026
- Homes.com — DFW metro median & closed sales
- Zillow; Redfin — Dallas city pricing
- Texas A&M TRERC — statewide forecast
- JVM Lending; AkilRE — inventory & price-cut data
- UTA / Sriram Villupuram — market commentary

ASSISTANCE & LENDING

- TSAHC.org — DPA programs & June 2026 rates
- TDHCA — My First / My Choice Texas Home
- NerdWallet; Bankrate — Texas mortgage rates
- Fannie Mae, NAR, MBA — rate forecasts

COMMERCIAL & NEW CONSTRUCTION

- CBRE — 2026 DFW market outlook & HQ relocations
- Dallas market reports — industrial, office, retail
- Multifamily Q1 2026 market reports
- Dallas Chamber EDG — 2026 development pipeline
- Coventry Homes & builder incentive disclosures

ECONOMY, TAXES & LUXURY

- U.S. Census Bureau — population & migration
- Texas Legislature 2025-26 — exemption & tax policy
- North Texas luxury market recap & outlook
- TransWestern — employment data

Disclaimer. Prepared for educational purposes by C&C Asset Advisors, LLC. Market data is subject to change and should not be construed as financial, tax or legal advice. Buyers should consult a licensed lender, tax professional and real-estate attorney before transacting.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY WINDOW IS OPEN

Buyers who understand this market are the buyers who close.

DFW's mix of softer prices, decade-high inventory and underused assistance won't last once rate cuts release pent-up demand. Let's make sure you're ready before the window shifts.

YOUR NEXT THREE MOVES

01

Reply with your timeline

Tell us when you hope to buy — we'll map the path: programs, budget and the right neighborhoods.

02

Book a 15-minute call

Scan the code to grab time with Dalton, our principal. No pressure — just a clear plan.

03

Stay in the loop

Get the next issue of C&C Market Notes the moment it's published.

SCHEDULE YOUR FREE CONSULT

Book your free 15-minute First Home Call.

Dalton · Principal · Dalton@ccassetadvisors.com

469.479.9656 · Broker: Irma

← SCAN TO BOOK DIRECTLY ON DALTON'S CALENDAR